Coach's Perspective

We began our season in July with the familiar faces of upper-classmen who have grown the past four years experiencing the long transitional season of cross country. The usual back-to-work atmosphere of our first practice was infused with a number of additions to the group which immediately enhanced the energy of our small team. As I stood back, or rather sat and stretched in my own corner of the lawn, my mission for the group began to take shape; use the experience we had in our small returning group to instill an appreciation for the wonders of cross country in a group made up in large part of newcomers to the high school sport. Certain that with the leadership of our few Seniors, and the new additions to the coaching staff, our group would be in good hands, I eased up on the reins in August to allow the teams identity to take shape.

Speaking of shape, otherwise known as fitness; runners new to competitive high school running typically do not come to us physically, nor mentally ready to tackle running hard, let alone racing, over 3.1 miles of hill and dale - this group was no different. With athletes on the team in varying degrees of condition to manage training tasks groups within the team formed to help each other endure the day-to-day workload placed on each person. Friendships formed, sealed with the bond of shared exhaustive experience, and relationships that will last a life-time took shape to match the growing strength and character of each individual on our developing team.

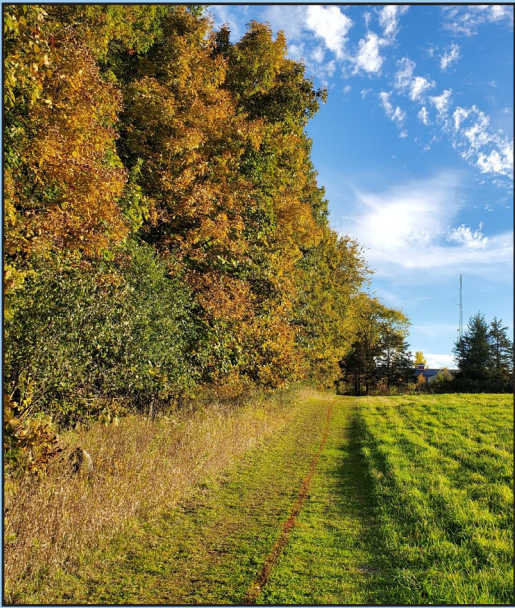

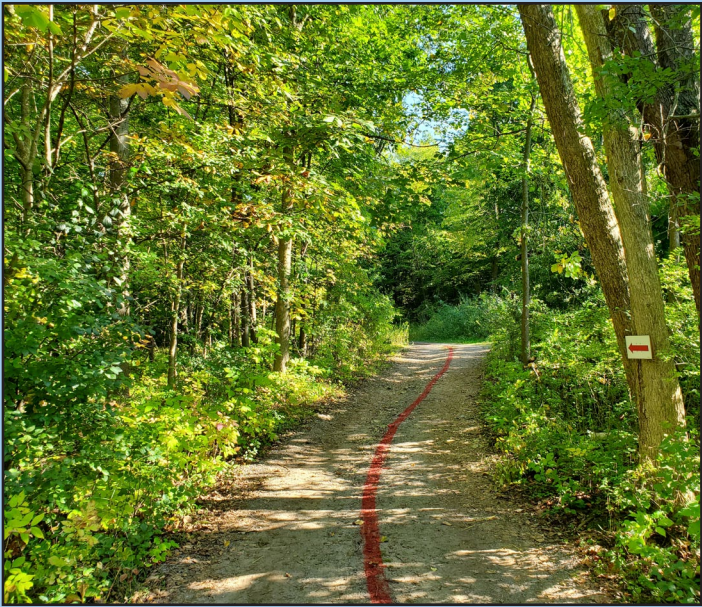

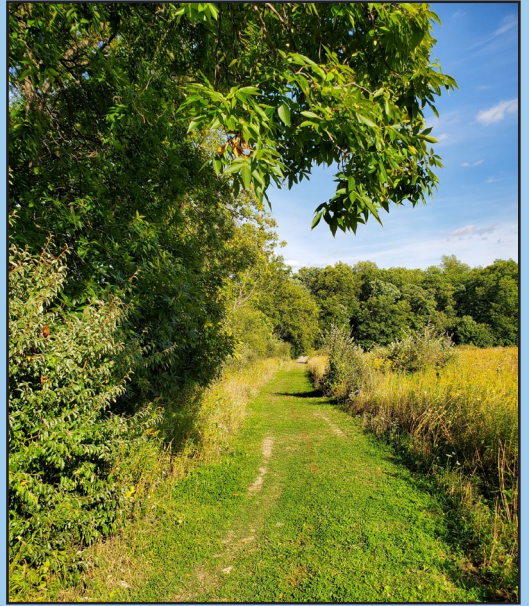

Going out to survive another run transformed into running hard. Running hard turned into racing, and the effects of consistent, persistent work began to show. Our team demonstrated week after week that they were not only capable, but able distance runners who could toe the line and compete with the best of our conference, county, and state. Personal bests as measured by time worked their way down as our team's confidence continued to grow. By the end of the season we had developed into stronger, more fully-shaped athletes, with a greater understanding of what we could accomplish mentally and physically.

As with every group production the successes and memories that will last far beyond what now seems to have been a brief season would not have been possible without the effort of a number of individuals. In their first year of coaching Cross Country Kerry Papenhagen and Toby Fraifogl made immense contributions to the team culture and experience of the athletes, all the while learning the ropes of managing a high school team and maintaining ten kilometers of cross country trails. Parents answered the call of duty when course maintenance required additional hands, and machinery, to complete the task. Parents also answered the call to host our Waterford Mott Fall Classic with hospitality that is recognized by coaches and athletes across the county. And for over a decade now the person responsible for capturing in video and pictures the events that will shape our memories of the Cross Country experience for many years to come is Paul Degraeve, whose effort in keeping records accurate and events documented in our yearbook will keep it alive every time we thumb through its pages.

Thank you for all of your cooperation and support, we wouldn't be the same team without all of you.

Day 1

Summer Camp @ Camp Leelenau

August 16th-19th, 2019

Summer camp is an important motivator and reward for Mott athletes in their pre-season preparation for the long racing season. This year marked the sixth consecutive year Mott traveled to northern Michigan's Camp Leelanau. The camp's secluded location near Glen Arbor, Michigan, is on a scenic, waterfront property surrounded by the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore.

Day 1 - Warm-up

After the long car ride and getting settled in, the veteran athletes were ready to lead the new team members on their first warm-up on Camp Leelanau's familiar trails.

Once again, the Mott team was privileged to have a large group of young, enthusiastic Waterford middle school athletes join us for the summer camp adventure.

Day 1 - Workout

The first workout gave everyone a good indication of how their summer training was progressing. Since it was only a short walk to the beach, the cold Lake Michigan water was a great choice to cool off after the run.

Day 1 - Cool Down

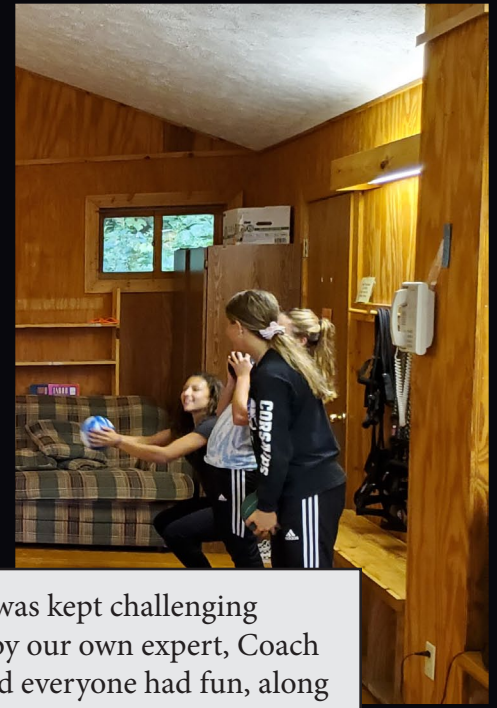

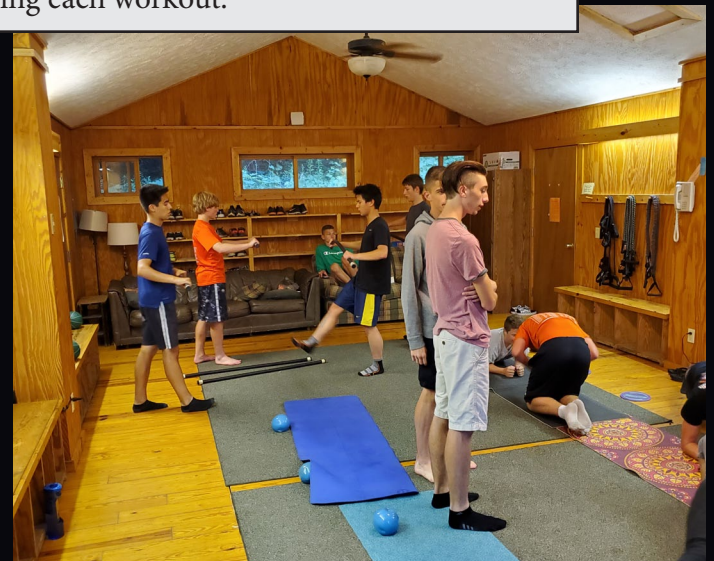

Once again, great weather for the entire camp experience was a big change from previous years. The high water level and narrow beach this year proved challenging in the search for Petoskey stones and other treasures.

Day 1 - Core

Like last year, the summer camp experience was kept challenging with core and strength training sessions led by our own expert, Coach Papenhagen. The sessions were effective and everyone had fun, along with some good laughs, during each workout.

Day 1 - Evening

The nightly trip to Glen Arbor continues to be one of the most reliable traditions at camp. The town has many options for dessert, shopping or just hanging out. The Cherry Republic had a great new look this year and was still one of the most popular gathering places in town.

Glen Arbor

Day 2

Morning Run

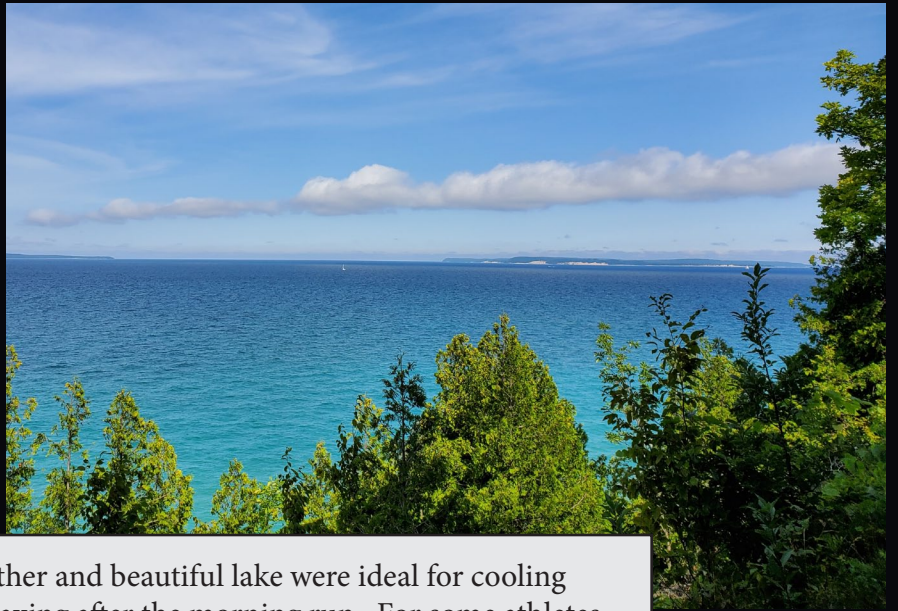

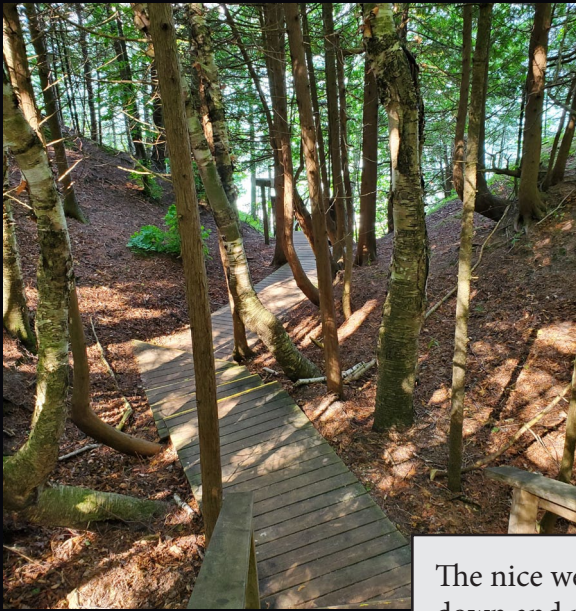

The destination for the morning run was a 'seasonal road' a short distance from camp. The easy 4 mile 'out and back' run was perfect to prepare for the afternoon workout on the trails to Lookout Point. This year's normal loop was modified because the road was permanently 'washed-out' by the local wildlife.

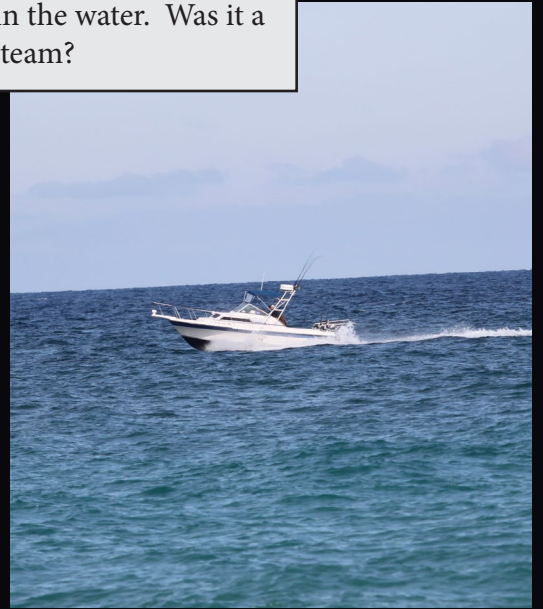

Day 2 - Cool Down

The nice weather and beautiful lake were ideal for cooling down and relaxing after the morning run. For some athletes an intense competition developed down in the water. Was it a draw or did we have an obvious winning team?

Day 2 - Afternoon Run

Warm-up

The afternoon workout took the athletes on some hilly and scenic trails. The views from Lookout Point were amazing. Everyone would return to this same location for their long run the following morning.

Day 2 - Afternoon Run

Workout

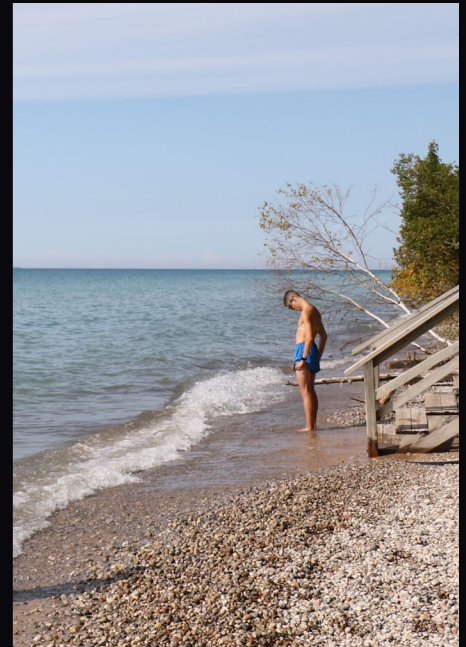

Interval workouts can be some of the most intense and challenging workouts for a runner. This run was no exception.

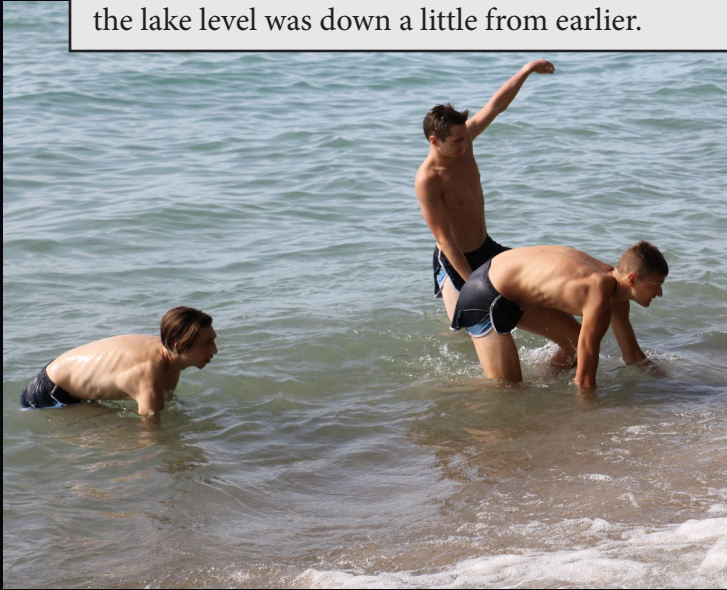

Day 2 - at the Beach

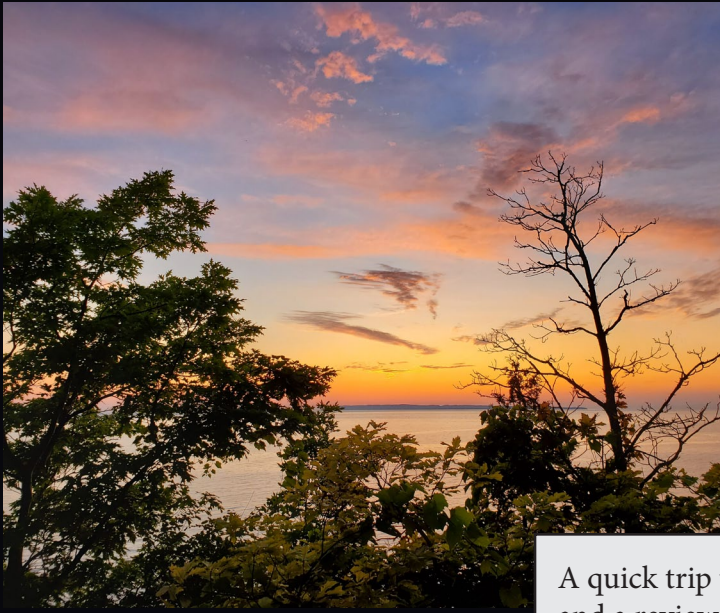

Another walk to the beach provided a good cool down and some well-deserved time to search for Petoskey stones. There was more room to search this time since the lake level was down a little from earlier.

Day 2 - Evening

A quick trip to Glen Arbor, a beautiful sunset back at camp, and a review of the day's activities wrapped up a busy day.

Day 3

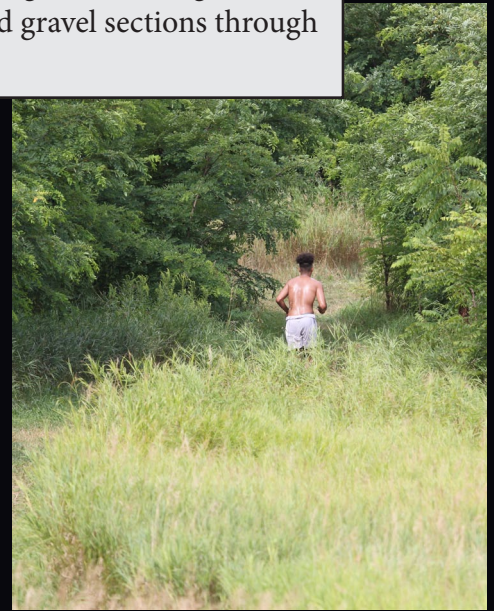

The third day brought the athletes back to the familiar trails for their planned long run. Each athlete's goal was to maintain their predetermined pace for the duration of the run.

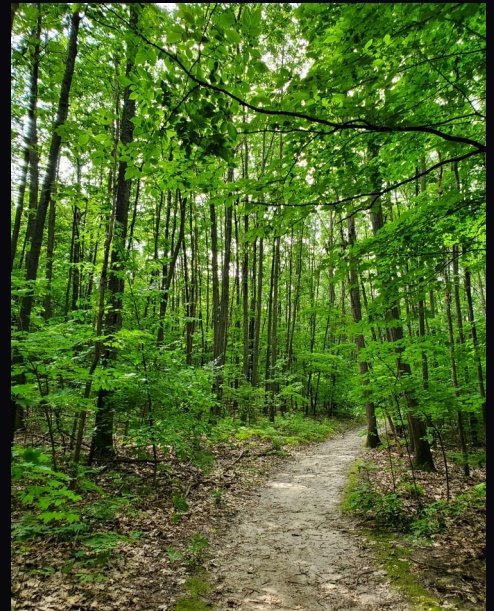

Day 3 - Long Run

Today's run gave experienced athletes time to explore other areas of the Bay View Trail system which includes 8 miles of hilly trails divided into loops. Others chose to run sections of the Sleeping Bear Heritage Trail. These trails were mostly paved with some packed gravel sections through the Port Oneida Rural Historic District.

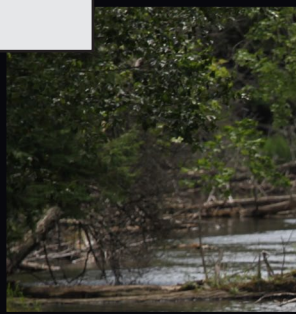

Day 3 - Canoe Trip

The much anticipated afternoon canoe trip down the Crystal River was a big success despite earlier warnings of incoming storms. After the “all clear” was determined, the camp staff transported all athletes and canoes to the river and provided guidance and rules for making this a safe and memorable experience.

Coach Robinson also got a chance to have some fun piloting his new drone.

A great place to see a little excitement, lots of laughs and a few tense moments was near the end of the journey when the canoes exited the culvert.

Day 3 - Canoe Trip

One by one, each group got their chance to ride through the final 'chute'. Everyone seemed to enjoy the easy-going trip down the river. It was a fun and relaxing afternoon with friends and teammates.

Day 3 - More Core

One last core workout before dinner rounded out a very busy day. But there was no time to rest because the evening agenda was also filled with activities.

Day 3 - After Core

With plenty of time until dinner, a few took the opportunity to show off their basketball skills.

Some other competitive activities were also available while waiting for dinner.

Day 3 - Evening

Pyramid Point

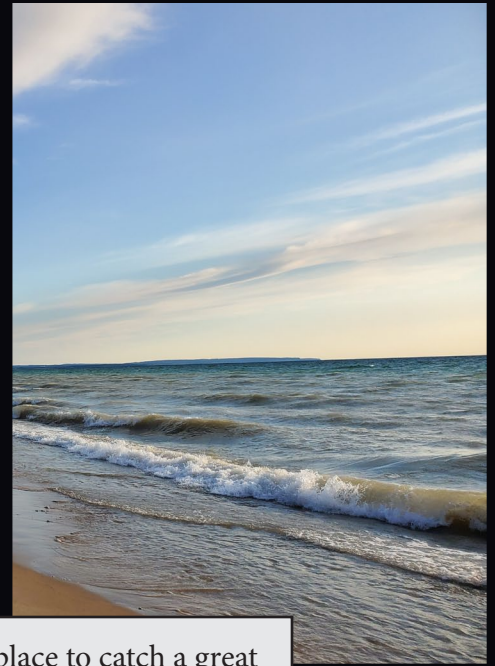

A short drive down the road, accompanied by the long walk to Pyramid Point, provided spectacular views of Lake Michigan and the Manitou Islands. After the photo ops, the evening continued with a trip to Empire Beach.

Day 3 - Evening

Empire's beach is a very popular place to catch a great sunset. The team didn't stay long this year because of plans for a bonfire back at camp.

Empire Beach

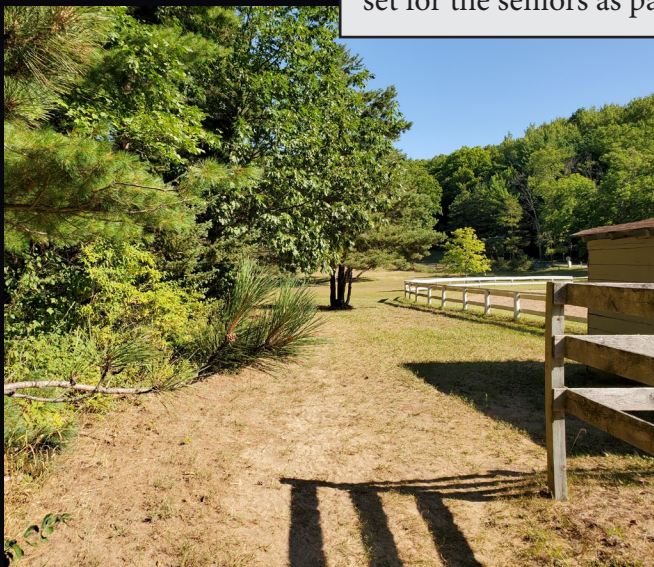

Lots of photos and laughs with friends and teammates was a memorable way to spend the last evening at camp.

Day 4

The final day of camp greeted everyone with more beautiful, sunny weather. The last item on the schedule was an interval workout followed by one extra set for the seniors as part of the traditional 'Senior Challenge'.

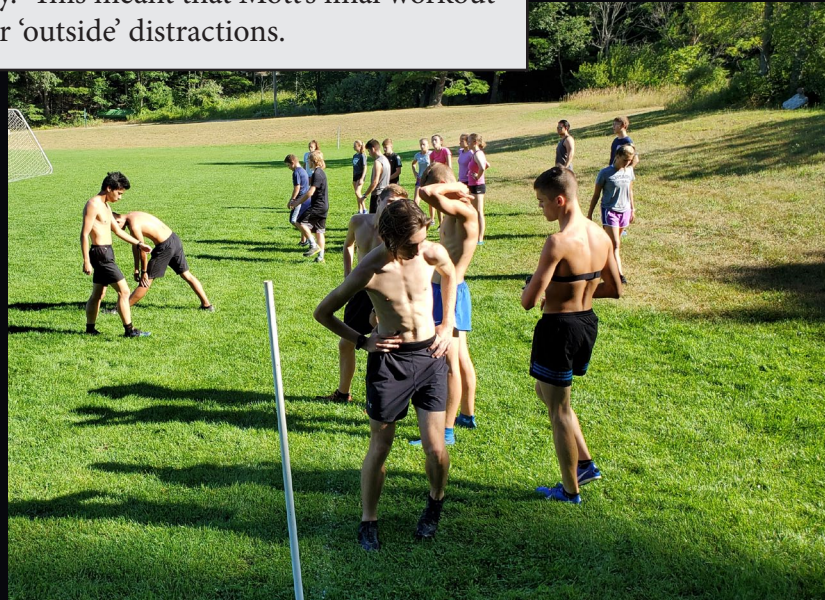

Day 4 - Intervals

Unlike last year, schedule changes for school start dates forced other teams to leave camp a day early. This meant that Mott's final workout was a team effort with no other 'outside' distractions.

Final Workout

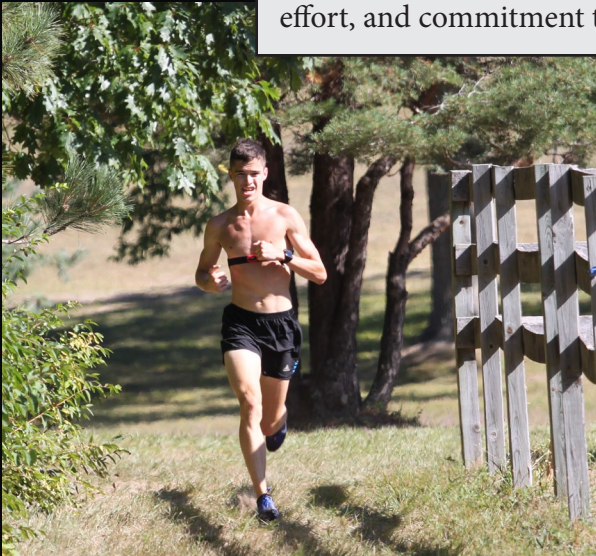

Despite this unexpected change, the workout was a great way for the athletes and coaches to assess their training and make adjustments for the upcoming season.

Day 4 - Intervals

This year's summer camp proved to be another great success for the athletes and coaches of Waterford Mott. Congratulations to everyone for their dedication, effort, and commitment to Mott's cross country program. Go Mott!

Last chance to cool off

... then pack up for home
