Coaches' Perspectives

Frequently, people in the hallways ask me the same question during the first couple weeks of school: "How's the team this year?" Over and over again, I told them, "This is the team that will ruin me for all other teams." And I would go on to explain how spoiled I was to be working with a group of girls that was so committed, so dedicated, so mature, and so talented. My husband reminded me nightly how lucky I was to be working with a group of girls who seemed like "college athletes," which most of them undoubtedly will be.

The top five scoring runners on this team are in the top twelve all-time, including numbers 2, 3, and 5, which points to the fact that we are enjoying a "golden age" in Mott cross country. North division champions, 3rd in the county, 3rd in the conference, regional runner-up, and 6th in the state is just the beginning for this group.

At the heart of this crew are three seniors. In our final huddle at the State Finals I talked about what the commitment of these three meant. No matter how much firepower we had up front, we wouldn't have been the same team without the leap of faith and drastically increased commitment from Morgan and Mikayla, and Tori's steady presence. Luckily, we have a couple of freshman who, though they will have big "spikes" to fill, are doubtless up to the task.

And the joy really is in the journey, not the destination. Finishing in the top ten for the first time, is a great memory. But when I think about this season, it's the smaller moments that come to mind, like splashing around in Lake Michigan, picking girls up in the dark of morning for swim practice (at exactly 5:30, 5:33, and 5:42!), and pre-meet run after pre-meet run through Waterford Oaks with the leaves going from green to orange to brown as the stakes got higher and higher. Each of these girls have an individual and a collective "hero's journey" that isn't over—2015 was just a chapter.

Coach McNeil

The 2015 season marked a changing of the guard as new names and faces led the Corsair charge. With a small cadre of returning upper-classmen our boys forged a new identity for themselves and our team. Experiencing the team taking its new form was exciting and energizing. My summer observations led me to believe that our individual goals should revolve around learning an appreciation for the Mott Cross Country system. For most of team this was a wake-up call (literally, 2 mornings every week a 5:15 wake-up call for pool work.) Mileage expectations, long interval training, irritating strength work with shoes, hills, Hess-Hathaway and a 5K race distance became the new normal. Helping young people gain an appreciation for setting goals, personal sacrifice, and hard work is the first step a coach takes with his athletes, and I feel that we made great strides forward this season in that direction. Our team goals centered around the smaller, dual meet competitions, and learning how to truly race an entire five kilometers. Our third place, 3-2 record in the our division exceeded my expectations for the season, and our Runner-up finish in the Lakeland 9-10th Grade Invite gives me reason to believe our team goals will be focused on the bigger stage next year.

The day-to-day entertainment of summer practice and camp led to September camaraderie in the halls, cafeteria and locker-rooms of Mott. And just as the season may have seemed endless in October, and I'm speaking about the parents and fans as well as the athletes, it's over. Our parents hosted more events this year than in any other, and everyone graciously assumed the extra burden. Corsair parents took on new and more involved roles for which I could never express the depth of my gratitude. But the Mott Cross Country season is never over. All of you have a heightened sense of awareness regarding your potential and what you need to do to take the next step - it's out the door in your running shoes.

Thank you for another wonderful season!

Coach Robinson

Runners' Perspectives

Looking back on when I was a freshman, I would have never thought I'd run cross country my junior and senior year. Although cross country is very challenging, I'm incredibly happy that I decided to do it. The sport and the girls I run with have made me into a stronger and more confident runner. I will for sure miss my coaches and teammates next year.

– Morgan Fuerst

Running cross country challenges you physically and mentally. The best thing you can do is stay focused on the problem at hand. The fulfilling part is knowing not only do you have teammates that are like sisters who have your back and will push you through the race, but in this sport every person makes a difference in the outcome. As a senior this year, I think I learned more from the underclassmen than they learned from me. Our team is not like any other. We've accomplished a lot this year and share so many memories that I will never forget, and I cannot wait to hear about them in the years to come.

– Mikayla Gean

This year was different compared to what cross country was in the past years. Before, I was always the "honorary freshman," due to the fact I was always a year behind the older athletes. I went from being one of the younger runners on the team, to one of the few seniors. As a team, we had some pretty big shoes to fill from the previous years, with some pretty small feet, due to the fact that most of our team consisted of sophomores and freshmen. However, we still worked together and developed as a team. We set goals, beat Kettering, learned to work together and push each other farther and faster than the race before, with only a few minor illnesses and injuries. I'm glad I got to spend my senior year with such a great group of athletes, who will do many great things in the years to come!

– Bradley O'Connor

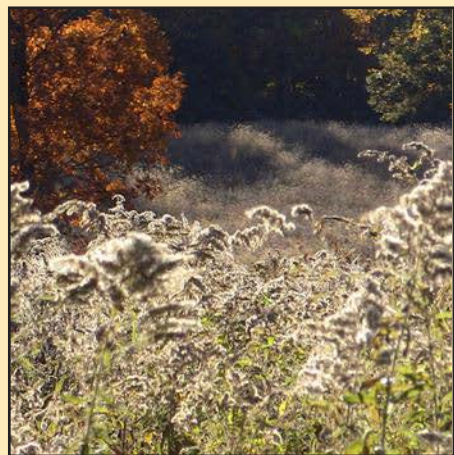

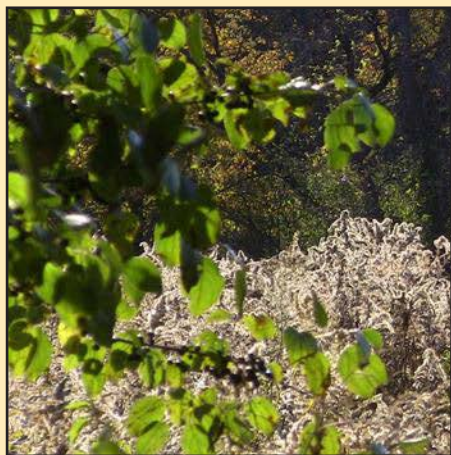

Reflecting back on my senior cross country season I am reminded of the persistence, positivity, and unwavering support of each of my teammates. As the season has come to its dawn, I have watched each remarkable athlete accomplish goals and overcome their battles. When I think of my team, the first emotion I feel is pride, not only for the achievements made as a team, but also when I see individuals conquer their struggles and successfully reach their goals. I am proud to watch girls who've become my close friends grow and bond through not only the insane urge to run, but through food, blue hair, and stories that often lead to laughter. I know that the greatness of my teammates does not end with this season; each individual will accomplish magnificent feats wherever they go. I am sure that they will continue to encourage one another through their struggles; they will have a clear mind set on personal goals, and with the guidance of their team will succeed, because when you are a Corsair, failure is never an option. That is what makes me so proud of my team-- through the rain, cold, bad days, and hardships, we have stuck together and found positivity, allowing for greatness even on dark days.

– Shyanne Welch

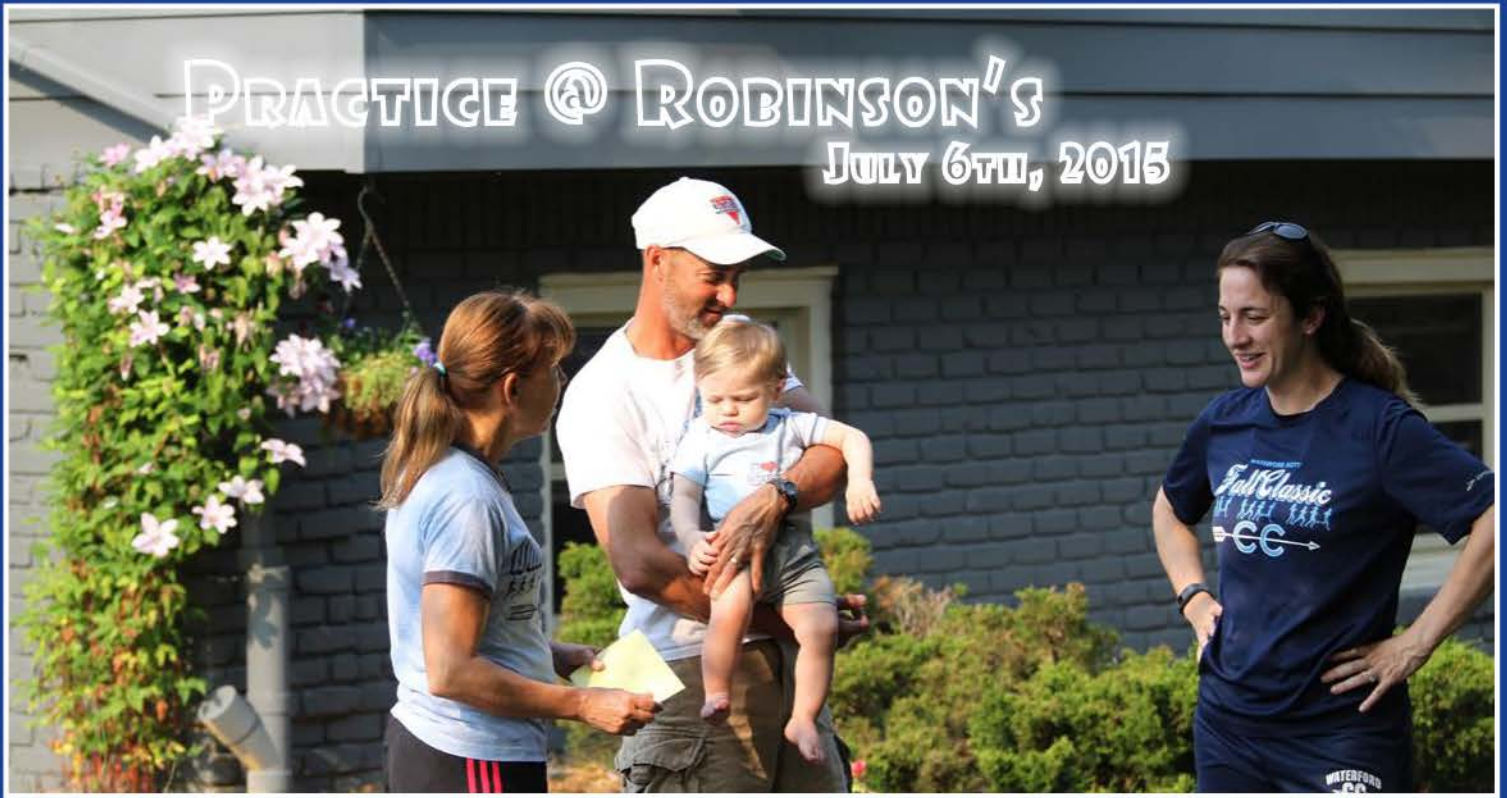

The year of 2015 marks my fourth year in varsity cross country. Cross country came this year just like all the rest, dreams big and small, team goals, personal goals, and sights set on 100%. This year was by far the best year for Waterford Mott Cross Country. Our team was not only made up of several different girls with different running backgrounds, but this year everyone stepped up to the plate across the board; we won together as a team and no one person put themselves in front of the other. As a senior you'd think there are so many things to teach and own, but with our team we've always led together. Knowing my teammates always had my back, and that we were in it together and took responsibility no matter what happened, made our team this year so unique. Finishing 6th in the state with our highest finish yet, Waterford Mott girls will for sure leave their mark on the world. Our girls are by far some of the most disciplined athletes, and I can definitely say I wouldn't have wanted my last year to be with any other girls.

Summer Camp @ Camp Leelenau

Day 1

August 21st - 24th, 2015

Travel day for Mott's annual summer camp has always been filled with much excitement and anticipation. Their destination this year was the same as 2014: Camp Leelanau near Glen Arbor, Michigan. It's beautiful and remote location surrounded by the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore on the shores of Lake Michigan once again was a great place to escape the normal training routine back home.

The original Camp Leelanau for Boys was founded in the early 1920s and was joined by Camp Kohahna for Girls in 1971. It's a popular location for summer sports camps, including MSU's Cross Country program.

An important part of the daily camp agenda was the evening drive to the town of Glen Arbor. Options included shopping, ice cream at the Pine Cone and the most popular spot to hang out – The Cherry Republic. Live outdoor entertainment at the Boone Docks or a trip to the local IGA for supplies was also available.

Good things happen when you hang out with Mott XC ...
 Congratulations to Tessa Fornari on her 2015 Division 4
 State Championship!

Coach McNeil wasn't able to make the first day of camp this year. It was a very happy moment when she arrived with her mom and Mott's youngest team member Evan.

Now that I'm walking, I probably should roll out these quads.

Day 2 - Morning

The morning run on day 2 was a little adventure down a 'closed road'. We soon found out why it was closed to traffic.

... then to the Beach

This year was a little less stressful for the coaches because there was no need to come up with activities for the athletes during their 'off hours'. This outstanding group of Mott student athletes made their own camp memories with a quick walk down to the beach.

As long as the weather cooperated, lunch and dinner were always an outdoor event after you filled your plate. Amazing views were only a short distance past the drink station at the edge of a 300 foot bluff overlooking Lake Michigan.

Day 2 - Afternoon Run

The woods and fields of some hiking and cross country ski trails was the destination for the afternoon run. It was only a short drive from camp and was a familiar challenge for Mott's returning athletes. The trails were well marked but you still had to pay attention and stay with a teammate to avoid getting lost.

Day 2 - Big Surf

Friends and big waves at the beach was a great way to wind down after a successful day of training. The after dinner trip to Glen Arbor wrapped up the second day.

Day 2 - Evening @ Glen Arbor

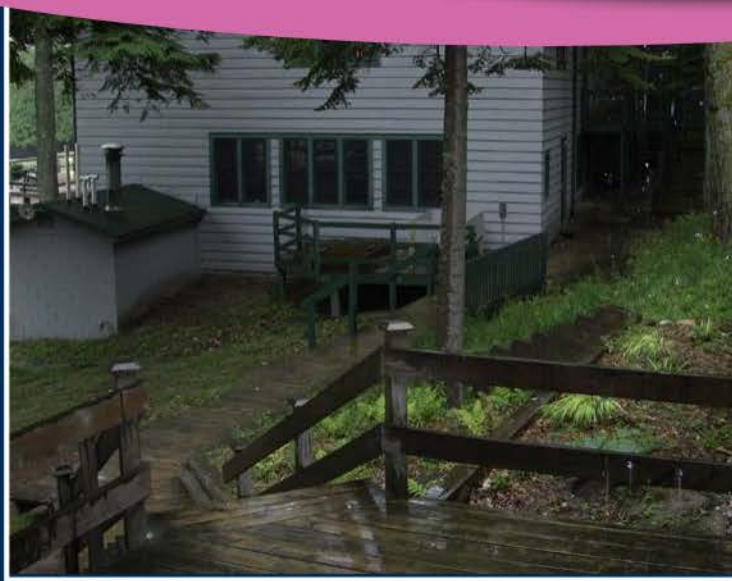

Day three started out with the athletes back on the trails for a workout. This was the only run scheduled for the day and there was much excitement for the planned afternoon canoe trip on the Crystal River. Unfortunately, a storm moved in quickly across Lake Michigan to cancel those plans.

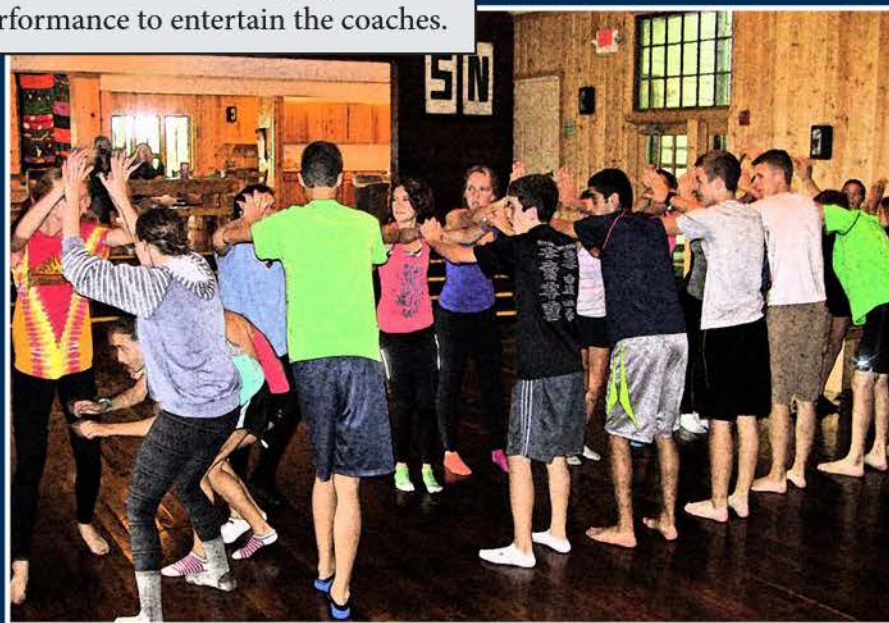

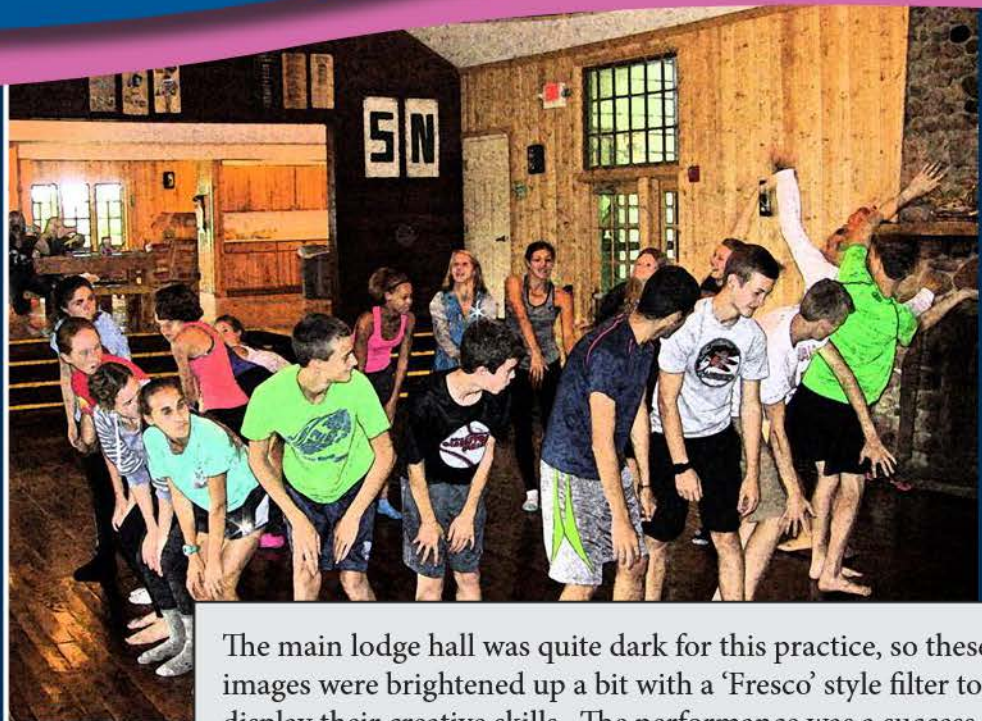

Day 3 - The Rehearsal

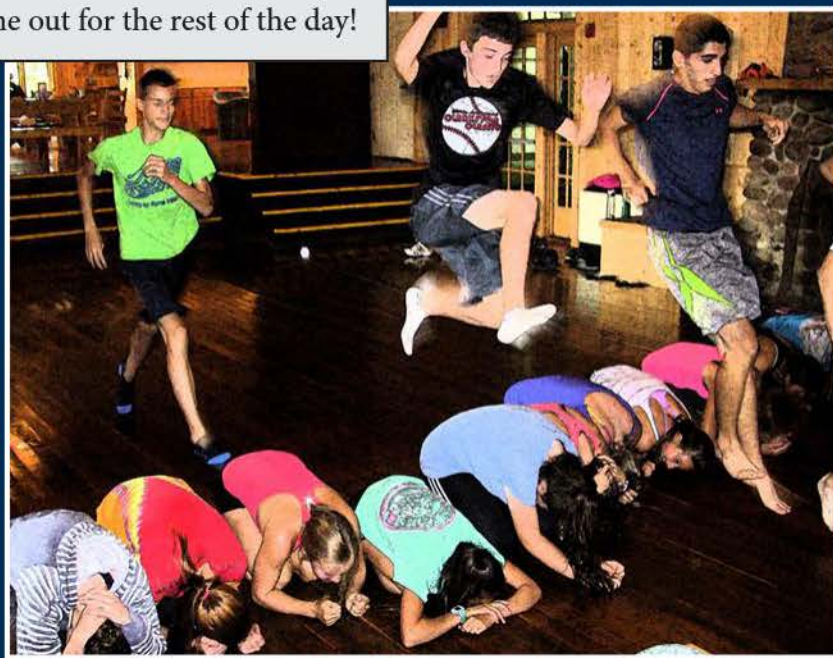

The rain continued throughout the afternoon but didn't stop the plans for a fun-filled day. It was very impressive to watch these athletes prepare all afternoon for a choreographed dance performance to entertain the coaches.

The main lodge hall was quite dark for this practice, so these images were brightened up a bit with a 'Fresco' style filter to display their creative skills. The performance was a success, the storm passed, and the sun came out for the rest of the day!

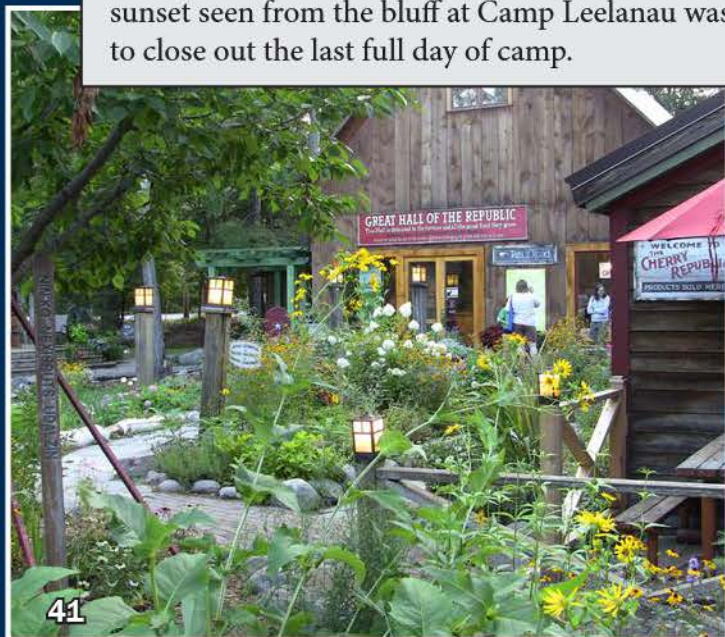

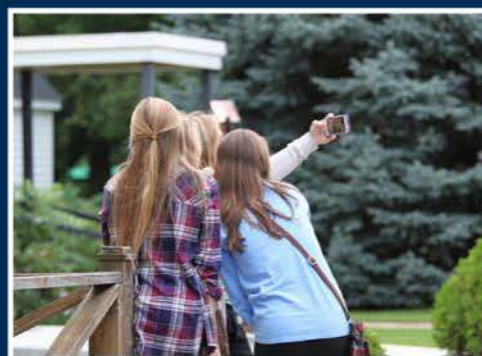

Day 3 - Evening

The final evening of camp was celebrated with one last trip to Glen Arbor's Cherry Republic. The weather and beautiful sunset seen from the bluff at Camp Leelanau was a great way to close out the last full day of camp.

The fourth day of camp was highlighted by one last workout and the traditional 'Senior Challenge Run' on the grounds of Camp Leelanau. Unlike last year, this year's senior class was quite small. Their dedication and hard work as Mott student athletes was much appreciated. You'll be missed!
